December 23, 1946

Professor Milton Friedman
University of Chicago

Dear Friedman,

In conversations I have had during the last two years with friends in a number of countries I have found a strong desire for closer contacts between all those who have become gravely concerned about the chances of preserving a free civilization, and who feel that not only the whole relation between governmental coercion and individual freedom requires re-examination, but also that current views of recent history will have to be revised if the dominant beliefs and misconceptions are not to drive us ever further in a totalitarian direction. While in each country those who think actively on these questions are comparatively few, combined they represent a considerable force and I have been struck by the similarity of the aims and of the conclusions reached by many of the isolated men in different parts of the world. It seems certain that by closer co-operation their work would benefit and gain greatly in effectiveness. It is clearly a task on which the economists and historians, political philosophers and publicists of the different countries who share the same basic convictions could profitably collaborate.

While the philosophy of freedom which would have to form the common basis for such a joint effort is not easily defined in a few sentences, I have found the suggestion widely acceptable that the ideals underlying the works of Lord Acton and Alexis de Tocqueville might serve as the agreed foundation from which such a common effort might start. Since what is proposed is essentially an international association of scholars, a sort of International Academy of Political Philosophy, the fact that the work of these men is now not widely known is no objection and perhaps even an advantage. But although I have occasionally even suggested that such a society might be called the "Acton-Tocqueville Society", this is meant merely to indicate the kind of philosophy which would have to inspire the common effort and the definite name of such a society would have to be a matter for further consideration.

Tentative discussions with a considerable number of people whom I have consulted at various times have made it seem expedient as a first step to arrange for an informal meeting of a group drawn from as many countries as possible at which the task and opportunities of such an organization could be discussed. So far the obstacles to the realisation of this plan have been of a material kind. There is now some hope, however, that funds to defray the costs for a stay of such a group in Switzerland for a period of ten days or so might be raised locally and that from a different source at least the particularly heavy travelling expenses of participants from the United States might be met. The date provisionally contemplated is Easter 1947 and provisional reservations have been secured at Mont-Pelerin, near Vevey for the period April 1-10. As the value of the meeting should consist as much in the informal contacts for which it will provide the opportunity as in the more formal discussion, it has seemed desirable to arrange for a common residence of the group for a period somewhat longer than would be required for a more formal meeting. It is suggested that the more systematic discussion of prearranged topics be held during the earlier and the later part of the ten day period and that the interval, including the actual Easter days, be reserved entirely for informal personal contacts. Apart from the question of the desirability and functions of a permanent organisation of the kind suggested (and/or the foundation of an international journal for the discussion of common problems) it is suggested that the following topics might be discussed in a series of informal closed meetings:

"Free" Enterprise or Competitive Order
The Problems and Chances of European Federation
The Future of Germany
Liberalism and Christianity
Modern Historiography and Political Education.

This letter is being sent to all the persons listed on the enclosed sheet in order to ascertain how many of those to whom it is addressed would be willing and able to attend such a meeting at some place in Switzerland during the first ten days of April 1947. Although I have discussed the general idea of such a meeting with many of those to whom I am now writing and have obtained their general approval, it has seemed best that at this stage I should alone bear the responsibility both for the proposal and for the suggested list of participants. I have however specially requested and obtained the permission of my friends Professor W. Rappard and Professor W. Roepke to add that I have their support in the attempt to arrange for such a meeting in Switzerland.

Since the time left for the arrangements for such a meeting in the spring is now somewhat short, I shall much appreciate a prompt reply, preferably by airmail, indicating whether you would wish to take part in the proposed meeting. As soon as I can form an impression of the response to the proposal and of the prospects of an adequate attendance, I shall send out further information.

Passport Division
Department of State
Washington, D.C.

Gentlemen:

I am enclosing ~~the~~ Passport No. 16260 issued Feb. 21st, 1947. I should like to have it renewed for the remaining period for which this is possible, which I take to be until Feb. 21, 1951, and am enclosing a money order for the $5 fee required.

I am planning to go to France as a consultant to the Finance and Trade Division of the Office of Special Representative to Europe of the Economic Cooperation Administration as soon as they can make the arrangements. I am hoping to leave sometime this month. I am planning to stay in Europe not less than three nor more than five months, so expect to return before the date on which the renewed passport would expire.

Mr. Comiskey, Personnel Division, Economic Cooperation Administration, Washington 25, D.C., is handling the travel arrangements for me. I should appreciate it very much if you would notify him when the renewal is ready; he said he would pick the passport up for me. My wife and two children are going with me; they are applying for a passport separately and are also asking that it be picked up by Mr. Comiskey.

I do not know what boat we shall be leaving on, but we shall probably leave from New York.

My permanent address is 5701 Kenwood Ave., Chicago 37, Ill. The above address, Orford, N. H., is my summer address; we plan to stay here until we leave for Europe.

I shall very greatly appreciate your giving this request your prompt attention.

Sincerely yours,

Milton Friedman

P. S. While I shall be stationed in France (Paris), I may want to visit other countries, including Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, Italy, England.

SUBJECT:

Renewal of Passport of Milton FRIEDMAN

Passport No. 583506 issued at Washington on March 19, 1952, to Milton Friedman was, on June 5, 1953, renewed by the Department of State. The expiry date on the renewal stamp reads as March 19, 1954. It is believed that this date should read March 19, 1956, as the passport bears no limitation or restriction.

Mr. Friedman states that he had requested the renewal of his passport at that time so that it might be valid for the full period of his stay in England as a Fulbright professor at the University of Cambridge.

ACTION REQUESTED: As Mr. Friedman wishes to travel in the near future, the Embassy would appreciate verification by airgram as soon as possible as to the correct expiry date of his passport.

Personal and Professional Associate

On April 28, 1981, Martin Anderson, Assitant to President Reagan for Domestic Policy, advised Special Agent (SA) [REDACTED] that he has known the appointee, Milton Friedman, for about eighteen years. He said that he was teaching at Columbia University when he first met him and later at the Hoover Institute at Stanford was on the same staff. He said that he would consider the appointee a very close and personal friend as well as an ecomomist whose primary views he can share.

Anderson said that Friedman is still an active, potent economic voice in the country and he could easily vouch for his character, loyalty, reputation and associates. He said his is brilliant, totally loyal and an exceptional human being. He strongly recommended the appointee for the position of trust that President Reagan has appointed him.
